For immediate release

DR. BARHAM SALIH, NEW MINISTERS, TAKE OFFICE
Infrastructure and political priorities outlined for diverse cabinet

WASHINGTON – A renewed emphasis on education, health, housing, income development and roads will head the priorities of the newly installed Kurdistan Regional Government cabinet, Dr. Barham Salih, the new prime minister of the KRG, announced.

The new cabinet will have 19 ministries, a reduction from 27 ministries and eight ministers without portfolio in the previous cabinet. The ministers were sworn by the Kurdistan Parliament and took their oaths of office in the presence of Kurdistan Region President Mesoud Barzani, former Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani, parliament members, Iraqi federal government officials and foreign diplomats.

The cabinet consists of members of the Kurdistan Democratic Party (KDP), the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan (PUK), Kurdistan Islamic Movement, Chaldean Assyrian Syriac Council and Turkmen parties. The ministers reflect the diverse ethnic and religious traditions in the Region, with the Christian, Muslim and Yazidi faiths all represented.

A senior member of the PUK, Prime Minister Salih heads the sixth Kurdistan Region cabinet since 1992. Before this appointment, he was the Deputy Prime Minister of Iraq from 2006, and the federal Minister of Planning from 2005. Before the liberation of Iraq, he served as Prime Minister of the Sulaimaniyah administration of the Kurdistan Region.

He pledged that the cabinet would give attention to areas where genocide was committed, such as Halabja, and would work hard for the international recognition of the Anfal genocide. He also stressed the Kurdistan region's friendship with Arabs and other communities within Iraq and its continual improvement of relations with Turkey.

Prime Minister Salih takes over from Nechirvan Barzani, who served as the first prime minister of the Kurdistan Region since the liberation of Iraq.
